Snowtape 1.1 adds radio station directory, more

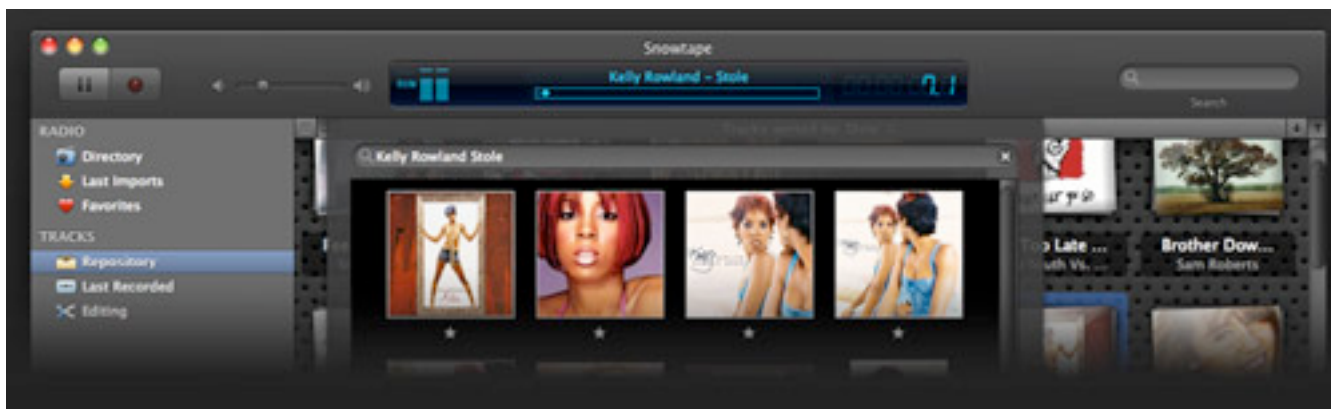

Vemedio has launched the first major upgrade to its Internet-radio recording software, Snowtape 1.1.

Snowtape allows users to locate and record music from streaming radio stations, then add artwork to the files and export the content as AAC files to iTunes.

The update also includes a revamped user interface for radio stations and audio tracks -- radio stations are now much more easy to find.

Snowtape 1.1 requires Mac OS X 10.5.2 or higher, a discrete graphics card and a broadband Internet connection.
